PAGING ALL BOOK LOVERS!

Join writer, broadcaster and blind adventurer Red Széll for the latest episode of AMI-audio's My Life in Books.

Each fortnight Red invites you to join him in conversation with a renowned author about their work and the books that inspired them to write.

Since the publication of her debut, The Secret of the Ninth Stone, Kylie Fitzpatrick has established a reputation as a historical novelist that has won her fans around the globe.

Her latest novel, Under the Black Mountain, is written under the pen name KT Fitzpatrick and blends history with mystery, to transport the reader back to 1919 and far northern Queensland, Australia.

It's a tale that reveals how the shockwaves of the First World War radiated out to affect even that remote corner of the world.

Join Kylie and Red as they discuss shell shock, narcotics and strange goings-on in the outback.

My Life in Books airs Mondays at 1 p.m. Eastern on AMI-audio, or download the podcast from your favourite provider via this link:
